

1875 Copyright J.M.

To Willie White: We have now waited several days for those gigs you said you had sent; but they do not appear neither by express nor freight. How and when did you send them?

I am so drawn with tent labors now, visiting and other necessary work that I can not get time to write but a little. Will do all I can to help you. That is right-use the fullest liberty as to printing what I send. I find The Examiner & Chronicle, 39 Park Row, New York, #25-0, the best

1875
D. M. Canright

paper & take for general
news and short articles and paragraphs. If you want to take any, I would recommend it to you.

Your brother,

D. M. Canright.