

(Copy).

June 4, 1903.

Review & Herald Publishing Company,
Battle Creek, Michigan.

Dear Friends,-

Replying to your favor of the 2nd, signed by D. W. Reavis, relative to the shipment of the twenty-five (25) copies of "The Place Of The Bible In Education" to the Iowa Tract Society, we return again our bill to you.

Your letter asking us as a special favor to let you have these books stated that you would be willing to either pay for them in money, or to return them. We do not care to take books in exchange for these, as we are now printing a large edition ourselves, having acquired the entire rights for the publication and circulation of this pamphlet in the Lake and Northwestern Union Conferences, and the States of Iowa and Nebraska.

As previously stated to you, these books cost us exactly what we charged you, and now that we are in a position to fill our own orders with a much cheaper book, we hardly see the justice in your asking us to lose the difference in price, especially since the forwarding of the books to the Iowa Tract Society was intended, at least as a matter of courtesy to you, and was not a piece of business wrought for upon our part.

R. & H. Pub. Co. 2.

Regretting that you should feel as you do about
this matter, we remain,

Yours very faithfully,

ADVOCATE PUBLISHING COMPANY,

(Signed) By P. T. Magan
J. K. M.

PTM-JKM